

Please allow it to stand. Not everyone has a caller ID. Each call costs, time is the most precious resource. It is never recovered. Why should so many people who don't want to be bothered be forced to accept unwanted calls. We can refuse unwanted email and unwanted US Postal mail. We not only need to allow this Wisconsin (tight) Telephone Consumer Protection Act stand but make sure the federal government includes cell phones in its do not call registry. I don't pay for my cell phone minutes to have them used by some telemarketer. If I want calls from any bank or other business, I can ask to be added to their calling or mailing list. I can contact them directly or not even put my name on the do not call list. But if I choose to be excluded from their lists, why do their rights supercede mine?

Please let the Telephone Consumer Protection Act of Wisconsin stand!

Thank you.
